UNEMPLOYMENT VOTE TO BE RIGIDLY CHECKED

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Four million dollars for "direct relief" is set aside as a maximum for this purpose under the regulations officially announced today respecting the $20,000,000 unemployment measure passed at the special session of parliament. It is understood that the money will be available immediately to meet conditions in certain localities especially.

This amount of $4,000,000, it is stipulated, is to be paid one-third of the expenditures of municipalities for direct relief, where suitable work cannot be provided for the unemployed and one-half of direct relief in unorganized districts. The minister of labor is empowered to enter into agreements with provinces for payment by such provincial governments of one-third of municipal expenditures for such direct relief.

Provision is also made for the minister of labor to enter into agreements with provinces for a 25 per cent Dominion contribution, 25 per cent provincial contribution and 50 per cent contribution from municipalities for construction of such public works and undertakings as may be necessary to provide suitable work in municipalities for the unemployed.

A certain elasticity where municipalities are unable to bear the burden of a 50 per cent contribution is provided for in respect to varying the proportion of the cost to be borne by provincial and Dominion governments. In the case of the carrying on by provincial governments of public works, improvements and other undertakings to assist in providing suitable work for the unemployed, agreements may be entered respecting the cost to be borne by the provincial and Dominion governments "in such proportions as may be agreed upon."

BOARDS OF TRADE TO TALK GRAVEL ROADS

Camrose, Sept. 29.—Having in view the discussion of a Calgary-Camrose-Vegreville-Cold Lake highway proposition, the Vegreville Board of Trade will send a delegation to confer with the Camrose Board of Trade on Tuesday evening, when the entire matter will be thoroughly canvassed. The Vegreville Board of Trade is sponsoring a new highway, which will connect the Northern States and the Southern part of the province with one of the finest summer resorts and fishing areas in Western Canada, such highway to be via Calgary, Camrose and Vegreville.

The already constructed and gravelled road between Calgary and Camrose via Wetaskiwin would form approximately two hundred miles of the proposed highway.

However, it is thought that parts of the province directly south of Camrose might have a road from the south through Drumheller, Big Valley, and Stettler to Camrose, the latter place then giving the advantage of a gravelled highway on to Edmonton.

Coronation and adjacent parts of the province are making strong appeals for a highway connecting Empress, Coronation, Camrose and Edmonton. Should the latter highway and that proposed by the Vegreville Board of Trade eventually materialize, Camrose would have standard trunk highways radiating in six directions.

PRICES OF FLOUR REDUCED IN CALGARY

Flour prices in the Calgary district went to the lowest level in the past seven years Wednesday when a further reduction of 20 cents a barrel was announced by local milling companies, bringing the current price to $8.30 a barrel.

The latest drop in price is the third announced during the present month, officials of milling companies state. At the beginning of September the rate ruling was $7.20 a barrel. On the second day of the month a 50c reduction was announced, followed by a 20c drop September 11, and a 20c drop September 17. With 90c lopped from the barrel price in the month, officials believe that reduction are bringing values closely in line with the depressed prices being obtained for wheat.

B.P.O.E ENTERTAIN DEPARTING CITIZEN

The prizes for cards went to Mrs. Schmitz and Mrs. Hogan, while the fortunate gentlemen were Mrs. Atkinson and Scott Farnham.

After supper, Exalted Ruler Burkholder, in a few well chosen words, expressed the regret of the Lodge in the departure of Bros. Jos. Richards, who is leaving in a few days to spend the winter in Washington and California. He wished Bro. Richards a safe journey and a speedy return to Wetaskiwin.

Bro. Richards fittingly replied, reminding all that Wetaskiwin could be nothing but Ace high with him.

After the hall resounded to the echo of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," Mrs. Chiddy, on behalf of the Order of the Royal Purple, expressed regrets and hoped that Bro. Richards would return in the spring.

PLIGHT OF FARMERS TO BE SHOWN DOMINION

George Healey, minister of agriculture and health, is leaving for Ottawa within the next few days. One of the main considerations confronting the government in this respect is to use much feed now being wasted as a result of the decreased livestock population.

H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, and R. A. Smith, secretary to the executive council, have been conducting an investigation into the methods used by other provinces in meeting the situation and have collected a vast amount of information to submit to the government.

It was announced Saturday at the office of the association.

"From actual tests of the machine in question," an official stated, "it is shown that in a highway section of 88 miles, not less than 913 pounds of puncture-making material were collected. The machine which was put to use in North Dakota, covered 17.5 miles a day and the material collected each mile was 15.6 pounds.

"It is not impossible to suppose that the average amount of foreign matter collected on Alberta roads would be less than in North Dakota, and in many instances, probably double the amount of puncture-making material would be collected. The Dakota authorities believe that two trips a year over the roads would reduce the number of punctures and blow-outs to a minimum."

FIRST AID IN THE HOME

It is a good plan for every family to be prepared to deal with emergencies which may arise. In each home there should be available the few articles which may be used with advantage in dealing with such emergencies. It is best to keep these articles properly labelled in a separate medicine cabinet, locked and out of the reach of children.

The following is a list of the articles for the first aid cabinet:

A first aid kit containing sterile gauze and bandages, to be used in dressing cuts and wounds.

Aromatic Spirits of Ammonia, two ounces. Give one-half teaspoonful in water in case of fainting.

Alcohol, rubbing, for use as a liniment to relieve pain in cases of sprains and strains.

Colbated vaseline, one tube/Use in the treatment of burns. Apply freely; cover with a piece of clean cotton and hold in place with a bandage.

Oil of Cloves. A drop or two on a moist cloth, placed in the cavity of an aching tooth.

Boric Acid. Dissolved in water, may be used as a mild antiseptic wash or for making a compress.

Syrup of Ipecac. Use one teaspoonful, followed by a drink of warm water, to cause vomiting.

A roll of absorbent cotton, a pair of scissors, a clinical thermometer, safety pins, adhesive tape, and a medicine glass can be conveniently kept in the cabinet, and will be found useful in carrying out the instructions of the physician when there is illness in the home.

The above list may seem to be very short to the person who is used to having shelves crowded with bottles. It is to be remembered that most minor illnesses do not require treatment with drugs. The most that the lay person should do is to await the arrival of the doctor is limited to a few things.

A severe illness is not threatened every time a member of the family complains of not feeling well, but a sick stomach, headache or chill may be the first warning of the onset of a severe illness.

The trained physician requires all his skill to determine the cause of his patient's symptoms and the proper treatment necessary. It is generally expensive and ineffective, if not actually dangerous, for the lay person to attempt to prescribe for himself.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

"They tell me Wilson's girl is hard. Is she?"
"Hard? Why nothing but a diamond could make an impression on her."

C.P.R. NEW EQUIPMENT FOR THE NORTH LINE

Changes and Improvements in equipment on the Calgary Edmonton line of the Canadian Pacific were made Sunday, last.

The bucket seat cars in the first-class coach are brand new equipment, just out of Angus Shops, Montreal, built especially for the Calgary Edmonton service and have many distinctive features that make them most up to date equipment. Some of these features are as follows:

All steel construction. Latest type of easy riding 6-wheel trucks, equipped with rubber shock absorbers, adding materially to the smoothness of operation.

Latest air brake equipment, such as used on the best trains of the American continent.

Electric thermostatic heat control, maintaining even temperature regardless of weather conditions.

Latest type ceiling ventilating system, not affected by direct wind. The so-called deck washes abolished. Toilets of the sanitary pedal-flush type. Wash basins equipped with sanitary liquid soap dispensers.

Bucket type seats, upholstered in moquette material and designed to give comfort and leg room. Bright, yet soft, electric lighting effect.

Floor covering of a special composition acting as an insulator and sound deadener.

Improved weather stripping for the windows.

Interior wood work in beautifully finished mahogany.

Length over all 68 feet. With the change of time table effective Sunday, the equipment on trains between Calgary and Edmonton will be as follows:

Nos. 521 and 522, the night trains, between the two cities, will have a buffet library compartment observation car, similar to the ones used on the main line trains. Light supper at night and light breakfast in the morning may be obtained. These trains will have usual standard sleeping cars and day coaches.

Nos. 523 and 524, the morning trains, will have smoking cars, new bucket seat coaches, cafe cars, serving breakfast and lunch, and large parlor cars, which are supplied with current popular magazines.

Nos. 525 and 526, afternoon trains, will have smoking cars, new bucket seat coaches, cafe cars, and a new type of parlor car, having an observation end, similar to the observation cars on transcontinental trains.

The many new features in this service will undoubtedly meet with the approval of the large number of people who travel between Calgary and Edmonton and intermediate points.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Blasted Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach trouble. For ferment and sour, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and impairs the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach. Instead get from your druggist a little Blasted Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloated right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Blasted Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

In time, and perhaps in a very short time, something like that will become a great industry.

Town Planning in Alberta

(By Horace L. Seymour, Provincial Director of Town Planning)

Being a series of short articles explanatory of the provisions of the Alberta Town Planning Act and Regulations thereunder.

Article 5—Maintaining the Scenic Advantages of Alberta Highways. Sign Boards—Regulations prepared by the Provincial Town and Rural Planning Advisory Board and now made effective by order in council should not only directly benefit the rural areas of the Province, especially in years to come, but will be appreciated by city and town dwellers and by the ever-increasing number of tourists.

We read of the struggles to maintain scenic attractiveness on the highways, in many of the states in the country to the south of us, which, a century ahead of Canada in population has for several decades been conscious of the signboard menace. In Canada we have been more fortunate, and before population becomes too great or development too intense, several Provinces are already operating under regulations in regard to outdoor advertising.

The Alberta regulations (applying only outside cities, towns and villages) with exceptions for official highway signs or directional signs are to the effect that:

Signs shall be erected only within two miles of any city or town; shall not be closer than 500 feet to each other; shall not be erected closer than 500 feet to road intersections or railway crossings; and shall not be erected closer to the centre line of the highway than one hundred and sixty feet. Even where otherwise permitted in such limited zones, signs must be omitted that in any way might constitute a traffic hazard, obstruct before drivers, or are objectionable to residents.

Every sign is to bear a label showing the name of the owner or person responsible and must be licensed for the calendar year on application to the Director of Town Planning, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton.

When Vicks VapoRub was introduced, mothers especially were quick to appreciate it, because it is just rubbed on and cannot upset children's delicate stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do. Of course it is equally good for adults.

Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing," and the demand for Vicks has grown until it is necessary to gain raise the figures in the famous slogan. There are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

WEEKLY JOURNALISM IN ALBERTA

The calibre of the so-called "small town" newspapers of Alberta has been the subject of frequent comment on the part of visitors to our province and even the critical eye of the professional newspaperman, quick to detect the merits and the shortcomings, is arrested by the timbre of these sheets.

It could have been said that pride of province caused us to believe that our Alberta weeklies were on the whole superior to those of other parts of Canada but evidence that it is no mere delusion is found in the fact that Mr. Charles Clark, publisher of The High River Times, has just carried off the Peace trophy for the third successive year and it now becomes his—or is it The Times?—permanent trophy. The Peace trophy is the award offered through the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association for the best newspaper published in towns of less than 1500 population and The High River Times wins it in competition with all papers of that class in Canada—Calgary Alberta.

FIFTH INSTALLMENT

(What has gone before)
Giles Chittenden, distressed over the suicide of his younger half-brother Rodney, returns to Europe from America, where he had made an unhappy marriage. Rodney had killed himself because notorious woman, Julie Farrow, threw him over. Giles is introduced to Julie Farrow by his friend Lombard, in Switzerland. He resolves to make her fall in love with him, then throw her over as she did Rodney. She tells him she has made a bet with her friend "Bim" Lennox that she can drive her car to the top of the St. Bernard Pass and back. Giles challenges her to take him with her and she accepts. They start out in the face of a gathering snow storm. Chittenden discovers, to his amazement, that the girl beside him in the car appeals to him as no other woman has ever appealed. And something intangible convinces him that her feeling towards him is similar to his own toward her. "Do you believe in love at first sight?" he asks her, as the car rolls up the mountain toward the hotel.

At the hotel, after refreshment, Chittenden and Julie found their mutual attraction so strong as to be irresistible. In the morning they returned to the town below, Julie apparently jubilantly happy. Lombard tells Chittenden that he has made a mistake, that this Julie Farrow is not the one who ruined Rodney, but her cousin of the same name. Chittenden is horrified. He calls at Julie's hotel and confesses that he had tried to win her love for purposes of revenge, believing her to be the other Julie. Giles goes with his mother to a London night club, where he meets Julie Farrow—his Julie—who is drinking heavily and trying to appear to be having a good time. A mutual friend introduces him. He says he has met her before, but she laughs in his face and declares they have never met.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Oh, no, I don't think so. He was not one of those who specialise in his women very much. I think a kiss was just a kiss to him."

She slipped away and they saw her join Essex and Mrs. Ardron at the far table.

Doris glanced at Chittenden and made a little grimace.

"Cocktails!" she said eloquently. "Such a pity! It's not like Julie a bit. She used to be such a decent sort, but now she's not quite sure if it were the right thing to laugh or not."

"Miss Farrow has been telling us that she has a cousin so like her that they are very often mistaken for one another," she said.

"Yes, so I understand," Giles said rather shortly.

"It must be very awkward," Mrs. Ardron murmured.

"I find it rather amusing," Julie said flippantly. "You don't know my cousin, do you, Mr. Chittenden?"

"I have not that pleasure," "Oh, you'll love her," Julie rattled on. "All the men do. She's got the biggest scalp collection in London."

Giles made a little movement to rise, but Julie was too quick for him. "Dance with me, Mr. Chittenden," she commanded. And before he was aware of it Giles found himself back again in the whirling throng, his arm round Julie's slim body, her hand resting lightly on his shoulder.

He looked down at her and felt that it must be a dream.

The same, and yet such an utterly different Julie to the girl he had held in his arms a few weeks ago.

He tried to think of something to say, but no words would come, and it was Julie who broke the silence.

"Isn't this a filthy band?" she said disgustedly.

He avoided her eyes as he answered. "My thoughts were so far away. I was thinking of a wonderful night you and I spent together on the top of the world."

"Oh, that!" She laughed carelessly. "Fancy remembering it! I've forgotten all about it ages ago. Fearfully uncomfortable, wasn't it? And so boring, wasn't it?"

Mrs. Ardron's face was a study. She was trying to smile and look as if she thoroughly enjoyed the situation, and yet there was a timid look in her eyes as if she were not quite sure if it were the right thing to laugh or not.

"Miss Farrow has been telling us that she has a cousin so like her that they are very often mistaken for one another," she said.

"Yes, so I understand," Giles said rather shortly.

"Really!" she shrugged her white shoulders. "Queer man! Let's talk of something pleasant shall we!"

Chittenden's face flamed.

"Isn't all this rather cheap, Julie?" he asked quietly. "For you to deny that we had met before."

She made a little grimace.

"I thought you might not like to acknowledge me. I'm earning quite a reputation, you know, as the bad girl of the family. I even believe Bim—"

dear Bim is shocked sometimes! I believe even Julie—the other Julie would not be too pleased with me if she knew some of the things I do—"

"What things, Julie?"

"Oh—just things! Men and things like that."

Chittenden caught her slender wrist in iron fingers.

"I should like to thrash you," he said savagely.

For a moment she struggled to free her arm, then suddenly she stood very still, looking up at him.

"You did thrash me—once," she said.

"Bye-bye, every one! I suppose we shall meet again some day. Doris will tell you where I live, Mr. Chittenden. If you ever feel like running in for a cocktail, and if she doesn't remember you've only got to enquire of the police! I'm well known to the police."

She laughed again recklessly, waved her hand and stroled back to her own corner where she was greeted with ironical cheers and banter.

"Shall we dance?" Doris asked, and he rose at once.

He tried not to see Julie as they went round the room, but she seemed the only real thing in a crowd of unrealities. Laughing, always laughing in that shrill, reckless fashion! He longed to go across to her and pick her up in his arms and carry her away from the noise and heat and glare, and soothe her into rest and sanity again.

Bim Lennox sat by the fire, a cigarette between her lips, and her feet thrust into a queer-shaped pair of Chinese embroidered slippers. A clock on the narrow mantelshelf had struck four, and Julie was not yet home.

It was the third time running that Julie had arrived home in the small hours of the morning, faded and pale, and trying to pretend that she had enjoyed herself.

"And no man is worth it!" Bim told herself almost savagely as she threw her cigarette end into the grate and rose to her feet. "No man is worth breaking yourself to pieces

Nasty Pimples On Her Face Dreaded Going Out

Mrs. F. G. Barwick, McGee, Sask., writes: "After my last baby was born my blood became very bad and my face broke out in nasty pimples, and I dreaded going out anywhere. One day I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised, so went to the drug store and purchased a bottle, and in a short time the pimples had all disappeared, and my face is fine now."

"I am the mother of four children and I am going to get a bottle for them as their blood is none too good, and I feel sure it will do them as much good as it did me."

"I told a friend about B.B.B. and she is very much pleased with the results she received."

Bim got as far as the door, then she came back.

"Julie!"

"Don't be a little fool, Julie dear—about Giles Chittenden. When we left Switzerland you said you hated him and that you hoped you would never see him again. I don't know why—I don't want to know, but—"

"I don't know why either," Julie interrupted rudely. "I'm changed."

"Quite changed. I used to be such a fool—priggish! unsophisticated. But that's all gone now, and I'm much happier!"

"Happier!"

"That's what I said," Julie said defiantly.

Bim stood looking at her for a moment, then with a little helpless shrug she turned away.

The door closed between them.

Julie stared where she was, her face on the fire. "Changed, quite changed," she told herself fiercely. "I don't care about anything any more. Nothing can hurt me. What's the use of trying to go straight and be what people call 'good'? It's much better to be a little bad."

She bit her lip hard, and closed her eyes as if in sudden pain.

"I'll make him suffer—I'll make him suffer—"

A chance twist in the wheel of Fate threw Lawrence Schofield across Julie Farrow's pathway in the Fawn cafe. Schofield was a widower. His wife had been neurotic and fretful, and for eleven years she had done her best to crush every instinct of joy and cheerfulness out of her husband's heart.

He was nearly fifty, and he could not remember that he had ever had what is called "a good time" in all his life until that night when some chance acquaintance took him along to the Fawn and introduced him to Julie.

To him she was like a creature from some entirely different world. He was not sufficiently versed in modern ways to recognise her reckless artificiality, to him she was a creature of light and happiness. The short ride home with her in the chill, early hours of morning had been a revelation to him.

To-night he felt younger than he had ever felt.

If Julie would marry him—he he awoke from his dream with a start at his own audacity.

The Weakening Agony of Piles (Haemorrhoids) Ended

Thousands Bless This Famous Herbal Ointment

Piles or hemorrhoids cause excruciating pain and often serious loss of blood. The famous Zama-Buk ointment is a wonderfully soothing and healing remedy. It is made from the swollen veins and itching parts. Zama-Buk derives its healing and mildy purgative influence from herbal extracts of special value in this weakening and agonizing complaint. Zama-Buk has a wonderful record of success.

THE BEST OF PROOF:

Mrs. R. L. Garber, of 2545 Ohio Avenue, Southeast, California, a nurse, writes as follows: "My husband suffered from Piles for years, but a year ago they reached an acute stage and he could neither sleep nor attend his work. He had medical advice, tried all sorts of lotions, but, peace, stress and ointments which cost him hundreds of dollars without obtaining any relief. Finally a friend gave him a box of Zama-Buk; after application for one day he obtained a good night's rest. He continued the treatment and by the time he had this second box he was completely relieved of his ailment and able to resume his work."

Mrs. F. Barrett, Pioneer, Alberta, writes: "We have used Zama-Buk ever since I was a young girl and I have never known it fail. My husband, who has been troubled with piles since he was a young man, has been cured by Zama-Buk ointment."

The unparalleled success of Zama-Buk lies in its original and valuable formula. Zama-Buk is compounded from certain herbal extracts of an extraordinary healing, soothing and antiseptic nature. Zama-Buk soon stops all pain and itching. It gets at the root of such troubles as eczema, rash, rheum, bad legs, ulcers, scalp disease, poisoned sores, etc., and is also a fine ever-ready first aid for injuries. WINFIELD

Miss Ivy Hallgren returned last Monday from Red Deer, where she has been since last spring.

Master Peter Abbotts of Edmonton, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. J. A. Woodbridge, for a few weeks.

Mr. Barton, our minister, preached an eloquent sermon Sunday evening, at the regular fortnightly services. Mr. Carter was the soloist and Mrs. Ayre, organist.

We regret to report that Mrs. I. O. Gibbons, who has been ill for some time, is not so well at the present writing.

Last week, Mr. Eric Johnson arrived back in Winfield. Mr. Johnson rented his farm west of town, and has been in Outlook, Sask., for the last two years. We are glad to have him back with us once more.

Mr. J. A. Woodbridge and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Alwood arrived in Winfield Saturday night, having motored from Edmonton for the weekend. Accompanying them were Miss M. Johnston, who visited her brother, Mr. E. A. Taylor and family, and Mr. D. McCarty. With the exception of Mrs. Alwood, they all left for Edmonton on Monday morning.

This rainy, and sometimes snowy, weather, is making it difficult for the farmers here, as elsewhere, to harvest their crops. Garden produce also is being gathered in as rapidly as possible.

Mrs. Chas. Clemmer and Miss Emma Fraser visited friends in Winfield on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Woodbridge and family, accompanied by Mrs. Johnston and Mr. McCarty, made several calls in Winfield vicinity on Sunday.

Miss Ruth Kilbourn spent Sunday with Mrs. E. A. Taylor.

Mr. Richard De Long and his mother, Mrs. Wallbridge, were seen on Winfield streets last Monday.

The death occurred in Wetaskiwin, on Sunday, at 11 a.m., of Vernon Hallgren of Buck Creek. Mr. Hallgren had been removed to the hospital by his brother Gustave, on Saturday, suffering from abscessed appendix. The operation was performed successfully Saturday evening, and on Sunday morning, Mr. Hallgren seemed on the way to recovery. The deceased leaves to mourn his loss, five sisters, Mrs. Conradson, Buck Creek; Mrs. Roy Gibbons, Winfield; Mrs. Lundgren of Edson; Miss Ruth Hallgren, Edson, and Miss Lily Hallgren, Buck Creek; three brothers, Gustave, Hanning and Robert, Buck Creek, besides many other relatives. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sorrowing family.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, services being conducted in Moore's Undertaking Chapel by Rev. O. H. Miller. The interment took place in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 47 POUNDS OF FAT

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. After 21 days, the pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides.

"Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say.

"I shall never stop taking Kruschen Salts, will never cease taking my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that it is."

"P.S.—You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

LONE RIDGE

A meeting of the Lone Ridge Local U.F.A. will be held in the Lone Ridge hall on Tuesday evening, October 7, at 8:30. Members are urged to attend.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY CROP REPORT

Bright, clear weather, following heavy rain and snowfall in various parts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, has advanced threshing operations during the past few days after a delay of several days. Northwestern Saskatchewan and North-central Alberta, says the weekly crop report from the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, where crops were heavier and later in maturing, suffered most by the cessation of work.

Only 5 to 10 per cent of the threshing is left to be done in the western districts. Wheat in southern Saskatchewan is practically finished and is 83 per cent completed in Alberta.

The grading is reported good, although some deterioration is expected following the wet weather, bleaching and sprouting reported at some points.

As a result of the moisture increase however, fall plowing is advanced, although Manitoba still needs more rain.

Cattle receipts remain steady and hog prices are slightly down. A strong demand for stockers and feeders is still apparent.

British Columbia reports no damage from frosts and soft fruits all picked.

Look at the label on your paper.

CANADIAN SITUATION REGARDING WHEAT IS REASON FOR OPTIMISM

Toronto, Sept. 27.—Canada's wheat situation, both as to marketing and prospective price, and also as to the wheat-growing future, fundamentally is such as to discourage pessimism. That was the verdict of B. P. Alley, assistant general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in charge of the bank's business in Western Canada, given in a lengthy interview which will appear in the Toronto Mail and Empire today.

The newspaper will say in part: "The Russian bear, judged by facts and past performances, is something of a bogey—for Russia would have to increase her wheat exports over last year by roughly 500 to 600 per cent to succeed in cutting world shipments in two for just one bare month this year.

Contrary to those who think that Canada sold very little wheat last year, figures reveal that Canada sold the equivalent of one year's entire crop.

"She did so against a price so high as to discourage consumption, a declining world purchasing power and stiffer competition than she is likely to encounter this year, unless Russia should loom up as more of a factor than seems physically possible.

"That is how the people engaged in the financing of the crop, whose institutions are behind the movement of it and who furnish a large part of the cash with which the Pools and private traders operate, appear to be looking at it."

The Mail and Empire will add that with a view to obtaining an answer of interest to general business and the Canadian people to the question: "What is the situation fundamentally in regard to wheat, marketing prices and future production?" the interview was sought with Mr. Alley. He is reported as first laying down several general points, substantially as follows:

"1. If there seems to be a tendency to think that the bottom has fallen completely out of wheat markets, it should be pointed out that making allowances for a reduced carryover, world stocks of wheat this year are not likely to be any more burdensome than they were last year, for the total world supply will not be much, if any, greater.

"2. From the standpoint of the exporting countries, supplies will be better distributed than last year, for last year the importing countries had unusually large crops of far them, unusually good quality and the exporting countries had short crops.

"3. Last year Canada was marketing wheat against a declining world purchasing power, whereas this year there is reason to suppose that any change in the purchasing power of the world is going to be toward improvement.

"4. There has been recently an improvement in silver and a settling down of conditions in China, which should help bring China and Japan back into the wheat market from which they were practically absent last year.

"5. That year's world trade in wheat totalled 325,000,000 bushels; this year's estimate by Broomhall is 736,000,000 bushels.

"6. A low price for any product tends to increase consumption.

"7. Canada has a crop the quality of which is markedly higher than in most years.

"Dealing more particularly with the points summarized above, Mr. Alley commented upon Russia in this manner: 'In regard to Russia, nobody knows exactly what the situation is and it seems impossible to find out definitely.'"

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT RELIEF PLAN PENDING

The provincial government is now in the process of collecting information with a view to forming plans for the relief of the Alberta farmer during the coming winter, Premier J. E. Brownlee stated in Calgary.

A meeting already been held with the representatives of the Western banks operating in the Province, the cabinet ministers met a group of livestock men, including John Burns, of P. Burns and Company, and the Palliser and Attorney-General Lyburn is arranging representative meetings of automobile, machine, and implement companies, mortgage companies and retail merchants to be held separately in the very near future in Edmonton, the Premier continued.

With other measures which may be the result of these meetings, the Premier stated, was the intention of the government to revise the present

Debt Adjustment Act at an early date. "We take the stand that with present existing conditions, it is more or less up to these interests to do what they can to see that the Alberta farmer is allowed to live here during the coming winter. We certainly hope that they will agree with us in that we, as a government, want our present citizens to remain here if at all possible. Compromises will undoubtedly have to be made to meet the temporary condition," Mr. Brownlee stated.

He went on to say that the cabinet had decided that they would rather meet each representative group separately rather than to call a general meeting of all concerned because it gave each group a chance to state its stand and in the end the views of all could be digested, and the Government then hoped to be able to announce some definite plans for the alleviation of the present pressing conditions.

When asked what the general feeling seemed to be with the organizations met so far, Mr. Brownlee preferred not to make any definite statement except that the livestock men had been very appreciative of the problem confronting the government and had made some very practical suggestions for the feeding of the cheap coarse grains and abundant supply of fodder in many parts of the province, especially where the livestock population had dwindled to practically nothing at the present time.

PREPARING NOW TO TAKE CENSUS NEXT YEAR

One of the first duties to which the Hon. H. H. Stevens will give his attention is the settling of plans and arrangements for the 1931 census. The taking of the census is one of the most extensive acts of organization and administration carried out in any country, and although the actual count will not be made until June 1st next, preparations are fully under way in the Dominion bureau of statistics and must be completed at an early date.

In Canada's decennial census is broadly limited to two great subjects: (1) population, and (2) agriculture. For industry and many other subjects the Dominion bureau of statistics has now satisfactory machinery distinct from the census. On the subject of population, a number of useful questions will probably be asked. It has already been determined, as a result of the recent conference on unemployment, to include among these certain questions which will permit a scientific study to be made of the whole problem of seasonal and periodic unemployment in Canada.

In the case of agriculture, the schedule will be much more complete than ever before. On these and various other aspects announcements may be expected from the statisticians from time to time as decisions are reached. All such preparations will virtually have to be completed during the early autumn, in order to clear the way for the large amount of field organization and preparatory work necessary before the huge machine required to take the census is made ready for operation.

The latter will require a staff of probably not less than 15,000 enumerators, commissioners and others who must reach every nook and corner of the country.

RUST RESISTANT WHEAT

Regina, Sept. 27.—In a technical and practical way experts of both the Dominion and Provincial departments of agriculture have been constantly to the fore in an endeavour to solve the many problems with which the farmer must contend in the production of crops. The farmer himself has rendered valuable assistance and the fight against the ravages of weeds, parasites, drought, etc., still continues. During recent years much experimental work has been done towards the objective of securing wheat capable of successfully resisting the ravages of rust. Some real progress has been made and in some cases claims have been made that have not stood the test of investigation over a period.

Some of the experimenters themselves have been disappointed after the growing tests of repeated seasons. The work is still progressing however and much hope is entertained that complete success will ultimately follow. As a result of these activities there is an added interest to the report from Yorkton, Saskatchewan, of the experiments carried on by a farmer of this district who in 1928 secured an ounce of wheat reputed at that time to be rust resistant. This small sample was sown that year, and the yield amounted to a pound and a quarter. This was sown in the spring of 1929 and the yield amounted to one and a quarter bushels. This year the yield will reach approximately 30 bushels. The important feature of the report, however, is that "while the crops on both sides show evidence of damage from rust this experimental crop does not." The originator of the sample sown, a man of considerable technical and practical experience, claims it to be practically "immune from black stem and lead rust, highly resistant to bunt and stinking and leaf smut and highly resistant to leaf scab and root rot."

Whether or not these claims will bear up under the tests and conditions of the future, whether or not these claims will be scattered to the four winds of differences of climatic conditions or for some other cause, the future alone can tell. One thing certain the ravages of rust and smut take an enormous toll from the producers of grain every season and the best brains of experts are struggling with stinking and leaf smut and highly resistant to leaf scab and root rot."

Back Was So Bad Could Hardly Straighten Up

Miss Marion Lutt, Enfield, N.S., writes—"For three years I suffered from terrible backaches, and when I bent over could hardly straighten up again. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking three boxes I was soon well again. Now I will never be without a box of 'Doan's' in the house."

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT
The following is a weekly report from the Edmonton Stock Yards, prepared by a Times representative, for the week ending September 30th:
Receipts: Cattle, 353; Calves, 269; Hogs, 882; Sheep, 589.
The cattle market so far this week has been fairly active, with buyers keen in their demands and in their bidding, and salesmen are finding no difficulty in placing all their offerings of butchers and particularly the better grades of lightweights, to good advantage. Prices on the whole, so far this week, are showing a fully steady to firm tone as compared to last week's advance of 35c per hundred on practically all classes of cattle, and it is noticeable that buyers are not grading quite so closely.
So far this week, some good to choice fed calves of the baby beef order, sold at $6.00 to $7.00. Bulk of the good to choice butcher steers are selling at $5.25 to $5.75, mediums $4.50 to $5.00, common to fair $3.50 to $4.50. Choice lightweight butchers heifers are bringing up to $6.00, bulk of the good kinds going at $5.25 to $5.75, mediums $4.50 to $5.00, common to fair $3.50 to $4.25. The general run of good butcher cows are bringing $4.25 to $4.50, mediums $3.50 to $4.00, common to fair $2.50 to $3.25. Canners and cutters $1.50 to $2.50; bulls $2.00 to $2.75.
There are not enough stocker and feeder cattle coming to the yards to fill the orders and in consequence, salesmen are having a difficult time in clearing their receipts of this class of stock to very good advantage and a good daily clean-up is being experienced.
The light end of calves are selling readily at fully steady prices; heavy calves, however, are inclined to be somewhat draggy and showing a weaker tone, with buyers grading much closer.

NEVER EXPECTS TO BE WITHOUT SARGON

"A disordered liver and constipation filled my whole system with toxic poisons. There was a rheumatic condition in my hips and limbs and it was almost impossible to get about at all. My strength failed me and my nerves had just about reached the breaking point. Sargon overcame all my ailments, including the rheumatic pains, strengthened and invigorated my whole body and I never expect to be without it again."

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT
The following is a weekly report from the Edmonton Stock Yards, prepared by a Times representative, for the week ending September 30th:
Receipts: Cattle, 353; Calves, 269; Hogs, 882; Sheep, 589.
The cattle market so far this week has been fairly active, with buyers keen in their demands and in their bidding, and salesmen are finding no difficulty in placing all their offerings of butchers and particularly the better grades of lightweights, to good advantage. Prices on the whole, so far this week, are showing a fully steady to firm tone as compared to last week's advance of 35c per hundred on practically all classes of cattle, and it is noticeable that buyers are not grading quite so closely.
So far this week, some good to choice fed calves of the baby beef order, sold at $6.00 to $7.00. Bulk of the good to choice butcher steers are selling at $5.25 to $5.75, mediums $4.50 to $5.00, common to fair $3.50 to $4.50. Choice lightweight butchers heifers are bringing up to $6.00, bulk of the good kinds going at $5.25 to $5.75, mediums $4.50 to $5.00, common to fair $3.50 to $4.25. The general run of good butcher cows are bringing $4.25 to $4.50, mediums $3.50 to $4.00, common to fair $2.50 to $3.25. Canners and cutters $1.50 to $2.50; bulls $2.00 to $2.75.
There are not enough stocker and feeder cattle coming to the yards to fill the orders and in consequence, salesmen are having a difficult time in clearing their receipts of this class of stock to very good advantage and a good daily clean-up is being experienced.
The light end of calves are selling readily at fully steady prices; heavy calves, however, are inclined to be somewhat draggy and showing a weaker tone, with buyers grading much closer.

The "MARRIAGE" of THE WHITE HORSE

"WHITE HORSE" is the brand most favoured by Scotsmen and they are the greatest connoisseurs of whisky. Could you make a wiser choice when choosing whisky for yourself?

"WHITE HORSE" is Real Old Scotch. First matured and then blended, it is again matured and rebled, so that the whisky becomes properly married. This marrying of "WHITE HORSE" is a very lengthy process and the result is a right noble spirit of subtle and distinctive aroma and bouquet, soft, smooth and very pleasing to the palate, without a trace of kick or bite.

As a heart tonic and digestive "WHITE HORSE" stands supreme.

Her Three Children Troubled With Diarrhoea

Mrs. Leo Lapointe, Laurier, Man., writes:—"My three youngest children were very ill with diarrhoea. I tried all kinds of remedies, until a kind old lady told me to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I got a bottle right away and started giving it to them, and the next day the diarrhoea had stopped altogether. Now I will know what to do when any of my children are troubled, that way again."

CAMPS IN ALBERTA

More than six hundred boys and leaders attended camps sponsored by the Boys' Work Board this year, according to Tom Haythorne, boys' work secretary in this province, who stated that this was a better record than other years.

The largest camp for many years was held at Kasota Beach, Sylvan Lake, under the direction of Mr. Haythorne. Fifty-two boys and leaders attended. This camp had additional leadership this year, including Mr. Laundinger, Toronto, assistant national boys' work secretary.
